Grimm's Fairer Tales - traditional stories reimagined for a modern age

by Eden Ballantyne and Brothers Grimm

"With Wolves, Witches and Goblins, the story unfolds as the audience is invited to become part of the drama. The Brothers Grimm collected their classic tales over 200 years ago. Today, interactive storyteller Eden Ballantyne has reimagined them for a contemporary audience. Maybe Little Red Riding Hood won't have to wait for the woodcutter to save her? There may be a house of gingerbread, but what else could be waiting in the woods? "Fantastic ideas which engage both children and adults."

Please Be Seated

by Morgan Nadeau

Pikils the Clown ventures into an art galley and finds a sculpture made out of chairs with a sign that reads "Do Not Touch The Art." She ends up touching the art (of course!) and goes on a magical adventure of play using the chairs and her imagination.

Twelfth Night

Adapted by Kathleen Henry

Twelfth Night is a downsized version of Shakespeare's hilarious tale of unrequited love. Viola, disguised as a young man, falls in love with Orsino, who dotes on Olivia, who falls for Viola, but is idolized by Malvolio. Meanwhile the household servants seek revenge! This giant love triangle has a twisted plot and a happy ending. Performed by a talented cast of 12 kids ages nine to 17. This is a great way to introduce kids to Shakespeare.

Woods Witch

by Emily Murdoch

Emma is having a MYTHICALLY bad day! She fought with her mom, got lost in the dark woods and...a witch turned her brother into a swan!

Now Emma must outsmart sphinxes, sirens and giant spiders to save her brother while working through her own feelings about her dad passing away.

An exciting adventure for the young at heart, using Greek mythology, puppetry and magic to explore how to handle difficult feelings at any age.

Developed with the generous support of Playwrights Workshop Montreal and the Young Creators Unit.
