Broken Rhythms Victoria Society from Victoria, BC
presents

1,000 Pieces of $\pi$

Created & Choreographed by Dyana Sonik-Henderson

Have you ever experienced math phobia and wanted to dance about it?
Broken Rhythms has arrived this Fringe to serve up some delicious dancing  $\pi$  with a twist (and a few turns).

1,000 Pieces of  $\pi$  is the first act of its kind in that it investigates the mind-body connection by utilizing the constraints of the never-ending and never-repeating sequence of the number  $\pi$  (3.14) to create a full and yet 'irrational' dance show.

Winners of multiple Pick of the Fringe Awards, including Best of the Fringe.

40 Below

Created by Sophie Guillas & Cali Sproule

Got your transit pass?

Two Winnipeg transit drivers, Murdock and Jerry, cross paths on New Year's Eve on the free transit line. As each learns more about the other, they encounter many unique riders who have more in common with them than they initially think.

40 Below grapples with morality, magazine quizzes, lost cats, and what it truly means to be a "good person".

Assistance

by Leslye Headland

Assistance is a quick-moving comedy about our attraction to power and what we're willing to sacrifice to stay in its orbit.

For these ambitious (and somewhat masochistic) assistants, life has become a series of corporate humiliations and shortcomings. As this troupe of traumatized co-workers attempt to make it through each work week without being fired, they find solace in shared misery, loneliness and a shocking lack of self-respect. Like Succession...but with less money and a better-looking cast.

Don't miss this biting, 75-minute comedy!

Between Gigs

Written & Performed by Heather Madill & Joseph Aragon

Between Gigs is a funny yet poignant story about a frustrated musician and an accountant with a tragic past. Together, they play at weddings and funerals, and discover the value of friendship! — Okay—really, we wrote this show as an excuse to perform some tunes together, and share music with people. Actually, that ties in thematically with our show. It's probably a fluke. Anyway, we promise we won't kiss at the end.

We're also the people behind Bloodsuckers (4 STARS - Winnipeg Free Press) and other hit Fringe musicals, if that matters.

Bloodline

Written & Performed by Paris Crayton III

Paris Sr., a sharecropper in Mississippi, meets the beautiful Ruth one night at a juke joint and goes on a relentless pursuit to make her fall in love with him. Paris Jr., an animal technician, welcomes his new son into the world and navigates love and life as he struggles with his new fatherly duties and second thoughts about his marriage. Paris III, a starving artist, searches for love in multiple relationships and cities.

Bloodsuckers! The Musical

by Joseph Aragon

Kiss The Giraffe celebrates 20 freaking years of Fringe mayhem with the hit musical that started it all! Three American theme park developers negotiate plans for "Dracula Land" with a Transylvanian landowner named Vlad. But a diabolical plot looms large that threatens every soul on Earth. Will the world succumb to an undead uprising?

This special anniversary production features original cast members and KTG alumni, all ready to sing, dance and whoop-ass their way into your hearts.

Bremner sings How to Pack A Revolution In Your Suitcase

Written & Performed by Bremner Fletcher

What do you pack when you run? What can you use to fight evil? Art and music and songs!

In 1920s Germany, creativity flourished in the wild artistic world of Berlin while Hitler called artists "incompetents, cheats and madmen." Artists fled, carried their culture with them and kept fighting. Bremner sings hope and rebellion, proving art wins against evil.

Burns and Allen: Comedy Duo

Written & Performed by Caity Curtis & Stephen Sim

A loving tribute to vaudeville legends George Burns and Gracie Allen, with nods to Abbott and Costello, and the sweet, simple comedy of stages long passed.

"The duo successfully pull off old-school laughs as the vaudeville comedy team of George Burns and Gracie Allen, and in doing so remind audiences what made them so beloved." - Winnipeg Free Press

"Their re-telling of "Who's on First" was mindblowing. I had goosebumps and tears of joy in my eyes. Brilliant writing, singing, acting, and improv. - Al Simmons

Butterfly Dreams

by Felicity Friar

A butterfly hovers closely
And then quickly moves away,
Swiftly going where so ever
Her heart may freely say.
The butterfly only knows
How it feels to have wings,
To kiss the petals of flowers
In such elegant flitterings.
To have but one moment
Of such an exquisite flight,
Would be like a dream
Where all seems so right.
~Author Unknown~

Come join us as we explore the concepts of dreams, metamorphosis and perspective through an artistic medium of sound and movement in this 30-minute original piece.

Charged Conversations

by Doug Hagar & Mel Large

Who got killed by the electric car?

Two strangers meet late at night at an EV charging station in rural Alberta which happens to be in a cemetery. There's an electrical current so there may be some shocks. There might also be some paranormal investigations, a seance, auto executives, cowboys and some ghosts even pop by. We'll need your help answering the question: is it taking so long to charge because of big oil or because a ghost keeps unplugging the car?

HerPlease

Created & Performed by Kate Tobie

Gloria, a life-sized vagina, has lost her keys. While digging through her folds and pockets, she stumbles upon objects hidden deep within that spark memories, taking her to dark and hilarious places. Through her comedic world view she straddles taboo topics. The orgasmic, tragic and the slits in between.

Blending clown, puppetry, stand-up, storytelling and physical theatre, Kate Tobie walks a raunchy line between uproarious laughter and disappointedly familiar grief.

Best of Halifax Fringe 2017, Kate Tobie is back with her solo show debut.

I Ruin Things For A Living

Written & Performed by J.D. Renaud

J.D. Renaud is a comedian, visual artist and storyteller. However, since none of those jobs pay the bills, his main gig is breaking stuff.

Join him as he extols the virtues of disassembling his life for fun and profit. Learn how you can too, as well as master interspecies communication, defraud the Guinness Book of World Records, and perhaps, time permitting, reassemble your life in some shape or another.

From the writer/director of Damn Your Eyes (Five STARS - CBC) and Self-Destructivism (Harry S. Rintoul Award nominee).

ImprovVision: Nicolas Cage Match

by ImproVision

It's time ImproVision and Nicolas Cage settled their differences! The "kings of short form improv" (CBC Radio) defend their titles against the Oscar-winning star of Willy's Wonderland IN THE CAGE! Will the erratic Hollywood A-Z lister show up?

Probably not. But he's done weirder gigs, so...?

If Ghost Rider ghosts us, ImproVision will perform Nic Cage-inspired short-form improv based on your suggestions with clothespins, puppets, phones and more.

Just Friends

Score by Amber Landry, Book by Jill Kooymans

Taylor and Lainey have been friends their whole lives, but have spent the last few years communicating only through letters since moving away from home. After Taylor unceremoniously dumps her brooding boyfriend and Lainey leaves her toxic fiancée, they suddenly find themselves back in town and in each other's lives, but something has changed and it's not just Taylor's haircut.

Just Friends explores what it means to be queer, still a little bit in love with your ex, and a lot in love with your best friend.

Later That Night

by Liz Farler

The play has ended and the cast is going to have a party on stage. Being the kind and considerate people that actors are, they invite their technician Matt to join the fun. Is the invitation really to include Matt or is it just to have a new audience for their antics? Many secrets will get spilled and maybe Matt has some about the cast. But are any of them true or is it just actors at play?

Meteor Shower

by Steve Martin

What starts as a casual get-together between two couples soon takes a left turn as a series of events and unexpected revelations cause the couples to question their relationships, and even their reality. Steve Martin's signature wit is on full display in this absurdist take on life, love and human connection. Expect the unexpected.

The Mirror Sphere: The Sworn Protector

by Adam Kirk

The Sworn Protector of the Father Sword embarks on a journey to save the land of Fafu from a dark wizard.

Fifteen songs tell the story of Boyo (Reynaldo Gomez), an elven warrior, and Star (Amber Westra), the beautiful Princess. A story told through music that dares to pose world-shattering questions about the nature of reality, and what it means to be alive. The fate of all existence depends upon Boyo and Star's quest to discover the truth of what is inside "The Mirror Sphere".

Moms Moms Moms

Written & Performed by DD Brassiere & Your Mom Kathy

Older, wiser and medicated, these moms are funnier than ever.

A raw and revealing dive into the dirty minds of comedians DD Brassiere (Tits Up) and Your Mom Kathy (Chubrub). These two bodacious babes, known for their onstage mischief, use comedy as a form of self-care. A coming of 'middle' age story with a splash of burlesque.

This comedy shines a light on the complexities and contradictions of motherhood. These moms are taking up more space, being seen and heard, and reclaiming their joy and desires. For Adults Only

Mornings at Miss Mabel's

Written & Performed by sherri elle

Mornings are never dull at Miss Mabel's!

As a nursery school teacher, you never know what your day will bring and it's the things you don't plan for that keep it interesting.

Come inside the classroom - there's delight, innocence, injuries, accidents, a cheese mat and stories. Share in the joy of working where you get to play all day, where workplace hazards include biting, hurt feelings and sneezes right in your face, and in the connection between teachers who always put the kids first, even if the world doesn't.

My toes striving till the tips of your fingers

by Johanne Gour

My toes striving, while my life is falling out of my hands. Body parts repeat basic walking movements. Other limbs draft gestures of love. Some bodies will remain aloof and alone... Should we seek our freedom? Will one of us stay behind?

Johanne Gour brings to light the contrast between the immobility of those who are sitting and the agility of legs free to come and go. As dancers move in unexpected ways, the wheelchair-bound choreographer performs her own part. The audience is pulled into feelings of confinement.

Not Quite Sherlock: The Gaslight Detective

Written & Performed by Chris Gibbs

London, 1896. Checking on a friend's house, Barnaby Gibbs finds a man dressed in black, holding a bag of jewelry, writing a poem about sapphires. Any reasonable man would see that this must be the notorious cat burglar known as the Rhyming Bandit! Fortunately, Gibbs is not a reasonable man. And when the stranger declares he is in fact the brilliant detective Antoine Feval, a new crime-fighting duo is born.

A One Human Being, Potentially Comedic Performance of The Nightmare Before Christmas

Written & Performed by Alli Perlov

What IS this?!

Local high school drama teacher Alli Perlov brings a new show in the style of her 2018/23 parody of Les Mis.

Can she sing? She tries! Can she act? She tries! Will you laugh? Oh...probably.

Perlov plays dozens of creepy characters in a comedic interpretation of the 1993 classic The Nightmare Before Christmas. In an homage to this brilliant musical adventure, through witty commentary and unstoppable energy, Perlov aims to entertain an audience that isn't forced to be there like her students!

Power Grab

by Konrad Antony

A boss who is so cold and unyielding you wonder if he is human. Collecting and maximizing "Penitent Points" like Air Miles in a church of the near future. A workplace claiming to be healthy actually being the opposite to it. Nonsensical pandemic rules in stores and the frayed nerves that result from them.

In vignettes that explore these and other comedic scenarios, we explore a number of absurdities and contradictions in the modern world, often tied up with the sense that those who wield power are not using it for the greater good.

Ragtag Cabaret

Old Cat Parade

These old cats have new ideas – and they aren't going to fall in line.

Enjoy the parade of exciting talent including music, stand-up, dance, clown and improv. Identifying as fools, these artists make weird stories that try to change the world. In the Ragtag Cabaret, Sue regales us with stories of her life back in the day, Sarah teaches us how to (literally) make friends, Jeremy brings the house down with his inspiring music, and Ruben weaves it all together with riffs on animal welfare.

Welcome to the ragtag cabaret!

Report. Distort. Retort.

Created and performed by Jade Janzen

From the classroom to the playground, we are tasked with answering the age-old question— who do you want to be when you grow up— Report. Distort. Retort. delves into explorations of bodily autonomy and trans childhood. How do we allow the world to shape our narratives when the people writing on the blackboards might not have our best interests at heart?

Join us as we celebrate the resilience of queer identities and the joy of reclaiming innocence in a world that often demands conformity.

A Side of Rice

Written & Performed by Nicholas Rice

Simply put, A Side of Rice is me - it's some of the stories I've amassed in my 50 years of professional acting and my 73 years of life. Starting out as a shy, fatherless Jewish kid in Winnipeg (Kelvin, Class of '69), I grew up to become an actor, a writer, a teacher, a martial artist and I hope, a devoted father and friend. Some of my stories are sad, some are funny; all, I promise, are totally true.

"Playwright Leith Clark didn't have to look any further than daytime television for inspiration. The characters in his take-off soap opera spoof live in Savoury City, and have names like Ginger, Cayenne, Cinnamon, Sage, Anise, Thyme and Clove. The stories are appropriately and weirdly co-mingled and so impossible to even attempt to convey in this brief space - but it's less the content than the comic touches that make this one a winner." - Leanne Campbell, Westender Vancouver

Supernatural

Written & Performed by Patrick Gregoire

Are random events in life truly random - or is there some hidden force at play, pulling all the strings? Supernatural explores this concept in a riveting series of baffling coincidences and displays of fate over free will from professional magician Patrick Gregoire.

Unique, interactive and amazing, Supernatural is a psychological magic show that will captivate your imagination from start to finish and leave you wondering if coincidences are merely flukes - or the forces of fate secretly at work.

Tales of a Reluctant World Traveler

by Randy Ross

Sixteen weeks, four continents, three bungee jumps, and I couldn't come home soon enough. This is the story of how a Boston homebody turned a solo trip around the globe into a comedy novel and a one-man play. Part travelogue, part theatre and part off-kilter author talk. A must-see for book lovers, writers, travellers, whiners, kvetches and misanthropes.

You're Driving Me Crazy

by Alison Bloxham & Stephanie Alexandre

Sibling dynamics are hard. Cramming them into a small car that smells like old McDonald's fries on a six-hour road trip can make them even harder. Sisters Jen and Penny seem to have found themselves in that very car, and to make it worse – they're late. Terribly late, to a wedding they don't want to attend.

Watch as a pleasant drive down memory lane turns into a disaster of cosmic proportions, as perspectives clash, secrets are spilled and tensions bubble over.

Buckle your seat belts, it's gonna be a bumpy ride.
