It's never too late to be a lesbian.

Late-in-Life Lesbian is the award-nominated, breakout solo show of Winnipeg comedian, Shane Thevenot. It is a heart-warming autobiographical coming-out story of a non-binary lesbian who gave up everything to live their best gay life.

From the woods of Manitoba to the big gay city of Montreal and back again, Shane takes you through their inner journey of how they came out of the closet to themselves and ultimately the world at age 32.

Part stand-up comedy, part drama and social commentary, this show is dedicated to queer folks who come out late-in-life and to the people who love and support them. It is a hilarious, fresh take on the late-bloomer lesbian and non-binary experience that will leave audiences feeling like it's never too late to be who they were always meant to be..

The world-premiere production of Late-in-Life Lesbian received an honourable mention for the English Comedy Award at the 2024 Montreal FRINGE Festival.

“Thevenot delivered a deeply personal story that captivated everyone...what Thevenot hoped to communicate to their audience was that no matter how late you are, it is never too late to be yourself, and they passed with flying colours.” — CKUT, Adrienne Roy
