“Emil Amok, 69,” About A World Where Everything’s Flipped Comes to Canada!

Monologist/Storyteller Emil Amok Guillermo Debuts New Amok Monologue at the Winnipeg Fringe, Starting July 16

WINNIPEG, MB – Award-winning journalist, NPR veteran, and Fringe-favorite Emil Amok Guillermo brings his newest Amok Monologue to the Winnipeg Fringe Festival, starting July 16. The limited run showcases Emil’s sharp, funny, and deeply personal performances that dissect the absurdities of America and the Filipino American experience in a world turned upside down.

A veteran of Fringes in New York City, Orlando, Washington, DC, Fresno and San Diego, Emil comes north for the first time with his signature blend of biting humor, social commentary, and heartfelt storytelling, honed over a lifetime as a journalist and humorist.

This new Amok Monologue tackles the story of our times: How do we survive the U.S. presidency, and it’s unmaking of America, impacting every detail of our lives.

And no, he doesn’t want Canada to be the 51st state.

Emil talks about how everything is personal as he fearlessly examines politics, identity, and the wild contradictions of our “69 world” with stories that move from funny to unexpectedly poignant.

“My Amok Monologues are about my life and my struggles,” Guillermo says. “I guess that makes it “Mein Kampf,” but flipped.”

Guillermo, a Harvard graduate and the first Filipino American to host a national news program (NPR’s “All Things Considered”). He’s known for his reporting on civil rights issues, and for columns in the Inquirer.net, Asian American Legal Defense and Education Fund, his appearances on radio and television, and his “Emil Amok’s Takeout” on YouTube. He hosts the PETA Podcast.
